

DEMOCRATS SWITCH, FAVOR TAX CUTS

FREIGHT RATE
RAISE SOUGHT
BY RAILROADSCARRIERS PETITION
ICC FOR FRESH INCREASES

BY T. S. ADAMS
Washington, July 3 (AP)—The railroads moved today for a billion-dollar boost in the nation's annual freight bill.

In a petition filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, 639 carriers representing all the operating lines in the country said that upward adjustments in rates granted earlier this year had been insufficient to meet the postwar increase in operating costs and provide for the improved services demanded by the public.

The lines, which have estimated their freight revenues for 1947 at $8,812,000,000, asked for authority to put up the freight rates by 25 per cent in eastern territory north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers and east of the Mississippi, and by 15 per cent in the remainder of the country. In addition, upward revisions in charges for various special services such as refrigeration and heating, pick up and re-consignment were requested.

Present Costs Higher
The changes were estimated to yield an additional $1,091,000,000 a year in revenues.

The last general freight rate increase was authorized by the commission last year and became effective January 1, involving an average boost of 17 per cent, and estimated to yield about $1,200,000,000 a year.

In addition, some rail lines last month were given some slight increases on certain transcontinental freight by way of adjusting the competitive situation with the water carriers.

It was emphasized the increases sought are based on present costs rather than any possible further changes in wage and fuel items. "If present operating expenses should increase subsequent to the filing of this petition," the lines told the ICC, "whether due to increased costs of fuel, materials and supplies, or to increased wages, it will be necessary to bring the changed situation to the attention of the commission by a supplemental petition."

In lieu of asking percentage increases on many commodities, the railroads proposed specific maximum boosts in many cases, for example:

Seven cents a hundred pounds on cotton, 13 cents on fruits and vegetables, seven cents on steel, 12 cents on sugar, 20 cents per ton on gravel, 15 cents per ton on bituminous coal, 15 cents on iron ore.

In a separate petition filed with ICC today, 36 railroads operating in the south moved to bring their basic passenger fares in Pullman cars up to the level recently invoked by 60 eastern railroads.

The eastern lines increased basic passenger fares in coaches from 2.2 to 2.5 cents per mile and Pullman passenger fares from 3.3 to 3.5 cents per mile. The southern lines propose to leave the coach fares undisturbed at the present 2.2 cents, but increase the Pullman fare from 3.3 to 3.5 cents.

Razors Taken From Japanese Witnesses
After Two Suicides

Guam, July 3 (AP)—Eleven straight-edge razors were seized in a search of witnesses at the Japanese war crimes trial today after two witnesses had committed suicide with razors.

The witnesses, who live in the U. S. Marine stockade, had not previously been reached because they are not charged.

Hiawathaland Saga
Thrills Thousands
At Athletic Field

Beneath a huge golden moon flecked by lost clouds with the scent of pine needles wafted from the south, a large crowd at the Athletic field witnessed the opening performance of the impressive, colorful Hiawathaland Saga last night.

From beginning to end, the tableaux, embellished by the music of Escanaba's symphony band and chorus, thrilled the audience as it took them back to the days when the Redskin was king. The Wedding Feast of Coleridge-Taylor, the Indian dancing of Reginald and Gladys Laubin, and the many historic scenes were woven together in an entertaining fabrication.

The Festival opened, following a band concert, with a prologue of appropriately dressed Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, U. S. A. Girls, 48 states girls, Nations and N. E. S. W. Girls, with flags and patriotic colors creating an atmosphere conducive to broad feeling.

This was followed by Miss Jean Farrell, Queen of Hiawathaland, with her retinue; and Miss Shirley Baker, Miss Escanaba, and her court. The Queens were then crowned before a heartily appreciative audience.

The first scene of the saga, ballet to the Coleridge-Taylor music, gives one the impression of forest nymphs gaily tripping along, as if on the sky above. As this faded from view the Indian scenes began to etch forward along the backdrops, creating grotesque shadows along a crinkled curtain.

So impressively beautiful were the Indian scenes with their dances by the Laubins, and the narration of Civic Theatre cast, that hardly a sound was heard off stage. Decorous Indians with all the "How" of the tribal lore performed in the wedding feast scene.

Reginald Laubin is an excellent dancer displaying a suppleness and superb sense of rhythms combined with a knowledge and understanding of the art which he is a master. Mrs. Laubin is very graceful in her dancing and is hard to visualize one without the other.

Several times during the Indian Buffalo Days dance exhibition, the audience was unable to withhold applause, from the mystic dance of Popakewis to the Beggar dance.

The next scenes followed chronologically in the saga of Upper Michigan with tableaux of Jean Nicolet and his explorers bartering with the Indians; the coming of Father Marquette and Christianity; and William Burt Government Survey, which resulted in initial discovery of iron ore by the white man and the awarding of the Upper Peninsula to Michigan in a boundary dispute with Ohio.

Along came the Gay Nineties with its picnics, races, medicine shows and can-can girls, the latter enjoyed by the men, disliked intensely by the womenfolk. The Virginia reel brought back the good old days for many in the audience—a few of the moderns even sighed wistfully and said, "Those were the days when the men were gentlemen."

Depiction of the first church scenes in Upper Michigan with its attendant social gatherings were included, studied with Escanaba history. Also in the same vein, historically, was a portrayal of the Ore Trimmers and their hearty life, from dock to bar and brawl.

Laughs came all around when the cast exemplified the one-room school, and a spick and prim school-marm, who didn't spare the rule either way. Names of prominent Escanabans who at one time were classmates incited mirth everywhere.

The last three scenes were flashes of World War I and Finland, World War II, epitomized with a setting of the flag-raising on Mount Suribachi in Iwo Jima; and lastly Delta county as an outstanding vacationland.

The grand finale brought all 600 cast members before the audience with the symphony playing the music.

The brilliant spectacle will be repeated Friday, Saturday and Sunday night. The cast will remain the same, as will the orchestra under the direction of Albert Shomento, and the chorus under Sam Ham.

Produced by the Rogers' company, the Hiawathaland festival is sponsored by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and other community organizations.

AID TO EUROPE WILL GO AHEAD

Paris, July 3 (AP)—Britain and France today defied Russian warnings and invited 22 other European nations to meet in Paris July 12 to work out plans for implementation of the Marshall program for economic aid.

Less than 24 hours after Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had declared that such a course would spit Europe into two blocs, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin took up the challenge.

The division between Russia and the Western powers was underscored by the failure of the sponsoring governments to invite the Soviet Union to the conference, which would include virtually all European nations except Spain and Germany.

The door was left open for Soviet participation, however, when the two Western powers sent a letter to Soviet Ambassador Alexander Bogomolov suggesting that Russia, which yesterday rejected the British-French proposals for economic cooperation, reconsider her attitude and join them.

A major subject of speculation was whether the Eastern European countries—those along the Red fringe—would attend the Paris meeting or would follow the lead of Russia and refuse to participate.

SIGLER SIGNS
PUBLIC OFFICE
WALKOUT BANSTRIKES PROHIBITED
FOR GOVERNMENT
EMPLOYEES

Lansing, July 3 (AP)—Governor Sigler today signed the Hutchinson bill banning strikes by governmental employees.

Spokesmen for organized labor have been bitter in their condemnation of the measure. "Public service imposes public trust and one working for the public, either in a public office or as an employee, has an entirely different responsibility from those in independent employment. Therefore they must of necessity be under definite rules and regulations," Sigler asserted.

Sigler said the measure permits public employees to bargain collectively and provides that the state labor mediation board mediate any dispute submitted by a majority vote of employees.

Ice Crusher Vetoes
The governor used his veto power to block a measure that would appropriate $4,500,000 for the construction of an ice-crusher-terry boat for the Straits of Mackinac fleet. The governor asserted that state finances do not justify the expenditure at this time.

The governor also vetoed a bill exempting articles used in agricultural production from the state sales tax.

Opponents have charged the measure would cost the state $2,000,000 a year in revenues and could be interpreted to exempt virtually anything bought by farmers.

Declaring the intent of the sponsors was good, Sigler said he believed the measure was faulty drawn and that he would present the question again to the special session of the legislature next January for a second consideration.

Sigler signed the vessel tax bill which distributes the revenue 50 per cent to the state general fund and 50 per cent to the state waterways commission.

A revision of the state liquor law was approved by Sigler, permitting the state to sell slow-moving merchandise at a figure approved by the administrative board. It also reduces the liquor discount allowed liquor-by-the-glass places from 15 to 12 1/2 per cent.

Party Ballots Revised
The liquor measure also defines a church as an "entire house or structure set apart primarily" for public worship and with which a clergyman is associated.

Other bills signed: Places the names of opposing party candidates at primary elections on opposite sides of the same ballot, instead of on two separate party ballots.

Permits election day registrations up to 4 p. m. in counties of fewer than 500,000 population and permits the Wayne county board of supervisors to adopt the provision.

Increases the secrecy of records of illegitimate birth.

Raises the maximum amount of real estate an old age recipient may own from $3,500 to $6,000.

Amends the real estate broker license law to require license applicants to be citizens, forbid licenses to persons convicted of embezzlement or misappropriation of funds, limit brokers' branch offices to one for each 60,000 of population.

Allows any state employee or appointed official to join the state employees' retirement system as original members by paying all back assessments before July 1, 1948.

Reduces the maximum income required of public libraries seeking state aid from $6,000 to $3,000.

Allows cities and villages to adopt building, plumbing and electrical codes without publication in full.

Scrubwoman Saves
To Win $24,000 And Freedom For Son

Chicago, July 3 (AP)—A widowed mother who had scrubbed floors for 11 years to finance her son's fight for freedom saw him presented a $24,000 check from the state of Illinois for 13 years of imprisonment.

Joe Majczek, 39, was voted the money by the state legislature after he was pardoned by Governor Green. He was sentenced in 1932 to 99 years for murder in the slaying of a Chicago policeman.

His mother, Mrs. Tillie Majczek, mortgaged her home and worked as a charwoman until she had saved $5,000. She offered it as a reward to anyone who could prove her son innocent. Investigations by the Chicago Times led to his release.

London Condemns
No-Baby Plan Of
Margaret Sanger

BY ED CREAUGH

London, July 3 (AP)—The man in the street and the woman in the nursery agreed tonight that babies are here to stay.

And they doubted if Margaret Sanger, for all her success as a pioneer advocate of birth control in the United States, would get very far with her proposal that Britain's cradles stay empty for the next 10 years.

"Perfectly fantastic!" exclaimed a Hampstead mother of three. "The idea—saying we haven't enough food to bring up our children properly. Did you ever see redder cheeks or sturdier legs than my babies have got?"

"Frankly," said a bachelor barrister, "I am afraid this Mrs. Sanger underestimates the—shall we say emotion needs?—that lead to the production of babies."

These reactions were typical of those voiced by people questioned at random about Mrs. Sanger's suggestion of a moratorium on babies in Britain and other "hungry countries."

The opening gun of a very promising controversy was sounded by the London Daily Mirror, which advised Mrs. Sanger, mother of three children, and grandmother of five, to go back to America. Added the Mirror:

"Her proposal would be about as practical as telling the sun to stand still or the tide to turn back."

But, gray-haired Mrs. Sanger wasn't the least bit fussed. "I suppose my ideas will upset all my friends," she said. "Unsound? Not a bit of it. There is pretty heavy overcrowding in Britain. Adults could be moved to other countries instead of having babies here while food is short."

Here for a family limitation conference, Mrs. Sanger dropped her controversial bomb at a time when the British government, in the throes of a manpower shortage, is spurring the birth rate by paying parents five shillings ($1) per week for each child except the first.

Mrs. Sanger wanted the United Nations to recommend baby quotas for all countries.

Senator Milkin (R-Colo.), finance committee chairman, told newsmen that the prospects of overriding in the Senate "looks good and I'm hopeful."

Senator Byrd (D-Va.), who has been lining up Democratic support for the new measure, still claimed 61 certain Senate votes to override, with an additional 13 or 14 "in prospect."

If Mr. Truman vetoes the new measure, it would require 64 votes to override if all senators were present and voting.

The bill approved today is identical with the measure vetoed by Mr. Truman June 16 as the wrong kind of tax reduction at the wrong time—except that the effective date of the tax cut is next Jan. 1 instead of July 1, 1947.

Family Income Saved
The House sustained Mr. Truman's first veto as the move to override fell two votes short of the needed two-thirds.

Knutson said the House committee agreed unanimously to put the community property principle of tax computation, applicable to all states, in a general tax revision bill next January. This would cut taxes another $750,000,000 to $1,000,000,000.

Laws in 10 states now provide for equal division of income between husband and wife for tax computation purposes. The division keeps the family income in lower rate brackets and saves the family a considerable sum on tax bills.

The new bill as approved provides:

1. Effective date next Jan. 1—(Continued On Page 12)

Lansing, July 3 (AP)—Schuyler L. Marshall, former St. Johns publisher, was reappointed a member of the Public Service commission today.

Governor Sigler made the appointment as he signed a bill reducing the commission from five to three members.

Sigler said he would make a decision next week on the fate of the two other members remaining on the old commission. John H. Schouten of Grand Rapids and Gilbert T. Shilson of East Lansing.

Thrill-Packed Festival Program Scheduled For Holiday Weekend

Gov. Sigler Will Speak Today Following Parade

Escanaba in the heart of Hiawathaland today opens its weekend Hiawathaland Festival program, an eventful three days and nights of celebration.

At 10 a. m. today, Independence Day, a colorful parade of floats, bands, and marching units will get underway at Stephenson and Washington avenues. The line of march will be south to Ludington, thence east to the Municipal Dock at Ludington Park. Gov. Kim Sigler will have the place of honor leading the parade and will speak at Municipal Dock after the parade has disbanded.

The Governor will fly here from Mackinac Island and will return here for the weekend. Adding to the air activity will be the arrival at 1 o'clock of several P-51 planes from Selfridge Field. Massed bands will be in concert today noon in the Municipal dock area. Other entertainment will be a real Indian "powwow" staged by twelve full-blooded Ojibway Indians from Wisconsin reservations, who arrived here on Wednesday in a plane piloted by Wally Arntzen of Escanaba. In the group is 16-year-old "Miss Minnehaha," whose real name is Dorothy Sunn, a junior student at Haskell Institute.

At Ludington Park a program of events of interest to children will be held during the afternoon.

Boxing Show Today

Starting at 1 o'clock a thrill-packed exhibition of water skiing and surf-board riding will be staged in Little Bay de Noc off Municipal dock. The second seagull class elimination race of the season will get under way at 2 p. m., and at 2:15 Fred Bear will present an archery exhibition at the dock. The six-mile triangular race for universal division sailing craft will start at 3 p. m. today.

Highlighting the event—packed afternoon program will be the boxing show opening at 4 o'clock at the high school athletic field on Lake Shore drive.

In the evening the expert surf board and water ski riders will stage another exhibition at the dock area starting at 6:30, followed by Fred Bear and his archery demonstration.

The second performance of the Hiawathaland Saga will be staged starting at 8:30 p. m. following a half-hour band concert at the high school stadium. Tonight, as every night of the festival, a spectacular display of fireworks will conclude the dramatic pageant at the stadium.

Miss Hiawathaland—Jean Farrell of Escanaba—will be honored at 10:30 o'clock tonight at a coronation ball in the Junior high school gymnasium.

Saturday Program

A number of additional features, besides repeat performances of some of the colorful activities, are included in the program for Saturday—designated Aviation Day of the festival program.

Indian powwows by the Ojibways, followed by the start of the fly and bait casting tournament at Municipal dock at 10 a. m., and open house at Escanaba city airport are only part of the events scheduled in the morning. The Bissell trophy race for sailing craft will get under way at 10 a. m. to Gladstone and return.

USCG-C Mackinaw Arrives; Is Here For Festival Days

With a crew of 80 men and seven officers, the United States Coast Guard Cutter, "Mackinaw" slipped into port here yesterday where she will remain at anchor until midnight of July 6th. She will be open for inspection daily from ten in the morning until 9:30 p. m.

Under the command of Comdr. Carl Stober of St. Paul, Minn., the Mackinaw, famed ice-cutter, and widest, fastest and mightiest Coast Guard ship on the Great Lakes, carries fuel to lighthouses during the summer and aids ships and persons in difficulty on the waters.

She is 296 feet long, 75 feet wide and has a tonnage displacement of 6,000 tons. Her horsepower from two Westinghouse direct current motors is 10,000 from the stern propellers. In addition she has a bow propeller with 3300 horsepower.

The Mackinaw also has a trimming and heeling system which enables 200 tons of water to be pumped from bow to stern or vice-versa in seven minutes. The heeling system is capable of pumping water from starboard to port side at the rate of 450 tons in 90 seconds. The fuel capacity of the Mackinaw is 456,000 gallons.

During the summer the Coast Guard vessel trains Auxiliaries and also attends conventions and festivals in various ports. Recently she assisted the steamer Greater Detroit aground in Harbor Springs and the ore carrier Negaunee in St. Mary's River.

The ship originally cost 12 million dollars and has already paid for herself many times over. Her commander is a veteran of World War service having participated in the Alaskan theater, escort duty in the North Atlantic and Commander of a hunter-killer group engaged in anti-submarine activities in the South West Pacific as well as Coast Guard Chief of Staff in New Guinea-Philippine theater of operations.

Heglund, John O'Neill, Clyde Bowles, Don Ness and Miss Irene Steen.

Bible School At First Methodist Church July 7-11

Beginning Monday July 7 the First Methodist church of Escanaba will conduct a vacation Bible School daily from 9-11 o'clock in the morning through July 11th when the school will close with a picnic and closing program. Those teaching will be Mrs. Otto Steen, Mrs. Albert Christian and Mesdames Douglas Walker, Mark

HAROLD BEATON ENTERS PRIMARY

Is Democratic Candidate Seeking Nomination For Congress

Harold D. Beaton of St. Ignace, former prosecutor of Mackinac county, and World War II veteran, yesterday announced his candidacy for congress from the Eleventh district on the Democratic ticket, in a special election to be held August 26, 1947, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Representative Fred Bradley.

Beaton is a bachelor with three and one-half years war time service as a G. I., two and one-half years of which were spent overseas. He was commended by the War Department for his continued outstanding service in dangerous situations during the battle of Manila. He holds the Asiatic-Pacific service ribbon with three battle stars and the Philippine Liberation ribbon with bronze star. He participated in the Philippine and New Guinea campaigns.

Since the war, Beaton has been a special attorney with the Federal Department of Justice. He resigned this post effective June 25, in order to make the race for congress. In the Justice Department division where he worked on many matters of nation-wide interest. He also had extensive experience in handling legislative matters for the department.

Beaton graduated from Marquette university in 1933, with an L.L.D. degree, and has been admitted to the practice of law in Michigan, Wisconsin, and in Federal courts throughout the United States.

Beaton obtained his grammar school education at Wells, and is a graduate of the Escanaba high school. As a young man, he taught rural school in Delta county and was a lumberjack for three years. At Marquette university he played three years of varsity football and was president of his fraternity. Upon the completion of his education he began the practice of law at St. Ignace, and in 1934 was elected prosecutor of Mackinac county. He was re-elected in 1936, and declined to run for a third term.

Religious Services At Stadium Sunday

Sunday of the Hiawathaland Festival will be marked with religious observances at the Escanaba athletic field with many outside clergymen present.

The first services at the field will be a Protestant sunrise service at eight o'clock with the Rev. J. B. Hubbard, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church in Park Ridge, Ill., preaching the sermon. A massed choir of several score voices under the direction of Mrs. M. H. Garrard will sing the hymns accompanied by Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom.

At 10:30, Catholic services will commence with a sacred concert by the band. At 11:30 the Mass will be offered by Rt. Rev. Msgr.

DANCING IN "SAGA"—Reginald and Gladys Laubin, national known dancers, will do the special Indian dances during the presentation of Hiawatha's Wedding Feast, by Coleridge-Taylor, in the Hiawathaland Saga spectacle at the Escanaba high school stadium July 3 to 6. The Laubins arrived here Sunday. They will go from Escanaba to Massachusetts where they will participate in a dance festival, sponsored by Ted Shawn, noted dance exponent.

Laubins Say Indian Has Made World Contribution

The ideal of democratic government, of individual freedom, liberty to speak and think as conscience dictates—these are but some of the contributions the American Indian has given the world, according to Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Laubin.

Although white, the Laubins have long been interested in the Indian, and have lived with them, learned to understand and think with them. Out of their knowledge of Indian life they seek to interpret to white men the true Indian spirit in programs they have presented in most of the cities of the United States.

"Our relatives are always asking us when we're going to 'stop playing Indian,'" said Mrs. Laubin with a twinkle in her blue eyes.

"We probably never will stop," said her husband, whose presentation of traditional Indian dances has been a feature of the Hiawathaland spectacle.

It is Laubin's contention, supported by historical fact, that early white settlers along the Eastern seaboard were greatly influenced by their contacts with the Iroquois and other Indian nations operating under a governmental system in which individual freedom was paramount.

Of particular interest in connection with the Hiawathaland Festival is the fact that Hiawatha was a Mohawk chieftain of the 16th century who effected the confederation known as the Five Nations or League of the Iroquois. Laubin believes that men influential in framing the Constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence were undoubtedly influenced by the government of their Indian neighbors.

In one essential the Indian government differed—all decisions were unanimous, Laubin said. It was not a case of majority rule, but of unanimous agreement, and on controversial questions there would be discussion and compromise until unanimity was reached.

Contributions to the world in other fields include quinine, cocaine, ipecac and many other drugs and curatives now used extensively by modern medical science. And the white man still recognizes that Coshineal (red) and Indigo were among the best dyes in the world.

In the modern menu the list of foods the Indian gave the world is long and impressive, Laubin explained. Included are corn, beans, squash, potatoes (both white and dark), tomatoes, pumpkins, peanuts, pineapple, popcorn, maple sugar and syrup, sugar cane, cocoa, tapioca, turkeys—and not to be overlooked is the now ubiquitous chewing gum.

And what would modern industry do without cotton and rubber?

Ojibway Indians Arrive From Bad River For Hiawathaland Festival

In buckskin dress and eagle feathered headgear, Chief Arbuckle and his tribe of 14 Indians from Bad River Reservation at Odanah, Wis., arrived yesterday to participate in the Hiawathaland Festival. Outstanding in the tribe was the medicine maker, Mrs. Angeline Cedarwood, who is 120 Indian years old.

Of the Ojibway tribe, the Indians came by auto. After initial arrangements had been made at the House of Ludington they were escorted to the United States Coast Guard Cutter, "The Mackinaw," which arrived here yesterday too, to spend the festival days in the harbor.

A complete tour of the ship from stem to stern followed with Comdr. Carl Stober of St. Paul, Captain of the vessel, as host and guide. Fascination and interest was expressed by the Americans who seemed especially curious about the radar equipment which was displayed and explained.

CASTING MEET HELD SATURDAY

All Anglers Invited To Enter; Be At City Dock At 10 a. m.

All devotees of the sport of angling are invited to enter the fly and bait casting tournament to be held at the municipal dock tomorrow morning, beginning at 10. Experts and novices alike are invited. There are prizes for all.

In addition to the competition, which will be conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smedley, of Muskegon, both expert anglers, Mr. Smedley will give an exhibition at the afternoon program, beginning at 2:15. He is a national dry fly and wet fly casting champion.

"We want everyone to understand clearly that one does not have to be an expert to win a prize," James Rouman, chairman of the casting tournament committee, said yesterday. "We are interested in having a large turnout and a successful tournament." The Smedleys will furnish all the necessary equipment, such as targets and markers. The meet is for accuracy solely. To enter the meet, all an angler needs is his fishing rod. All contestants are asked to report promptly at 10. A formal entry blank is not necessary.

Rouman particularly urges members of his recent adult fly fishing class to enter this event. All tourists and visitors as well are invited.

The director of the meet, Mr. Smedley, has won the Michigan state accuracy fly casting championship each year since the state tournament opened in 1938. Twice he has won the Great Lakes accuracy title, and this year, he captured the national dry and wet fly championship, the first time in 34 years that one man has won both crowns.

Lewis Wins Again

PUBLIC approbation of developments in the negotiations for a new coal contract, in which prospects for averting a coal strike seem bright, are tempered by the knowledge that the operators have yielded fully to John L. Lewis' wage demands. Just how the 35c hourly wage increase will affect coal prices, which have risen sharply in recent years, is still uncertain, but it seems inevitable that another boost is in the offing.

Under the wage and hour provisions of the tentative contract, coal miners will receive $13.05 per day, as compared with $11.85 previously. Actually they will work one hour less in the mines than previously, which means, naturally, decreased production at proportionately higher costs. Whether the tonnage royalty for the union welfare fund will be increased from five to ten cents, as Lewis demands, has not yet been indicated but if the operators yield on this point also, it means that the coal price to the consumer will be increased by that amount, in addition to whatever price boost may be necessary by the substantial wage boosts.

Increased coal prices are not reflected solely in the higher cost of the fuel you dump in your basement bin, although that is important, too. They are reflected also in the price of everything made of steel and of virtually all industrial production powered by coal.

There is also some fear that the 35c hourly wage boost in the coal industry may launch another wave of fresh demands for substantial increases in other industries.

The threat of a coal strike which would be ruinous to industry may be dissipated by this new agreement but the consequences of the settlement still may prove costly to the American people.

A Ridiculous Appeal

THE defense attorney for former Congressman May of Kentucky, charged with conspiracy to defraud in connection with war contracts, reached a new low in ridiculousness in his appeal to the jury upon behalf of his client.

The defense attorney asked for acquittal of the former Kentucky congressman on the grounds that the reaction abroad would be harmful to the United States. May's attorney contended that conviction of the man who was chairman of the house military affairs committee during the war would be playing into the hands of the foreign propagandists who contended that the United States was riddled with graft grabbing politicians during the war.

We do not believe that this plea could possibly make much of an impression on any American jury. Certainly it is no sensible grounds for an acquittal verdict. The final determination of the guilt or innocence of the former congressman should be based solely upon the evidence in the case and not upon the possible effect that the verdict may have on other persons, either Americans or foreigners.

The defense attorney's reasoning in his plea to the jury is unsound as well as being immaterial to the case on hand. We are not at all concerned about what the foreign propagandists may think about conditions in this country. If foreign impressions are going to play any part in this verdict, we should be more concerned about what reasonable people will think about a country that excuses war graft by its public servants merely because a conviction might not look good abroad.

Gas Tax Boost Vetoed

GOVERNOR SIGLER'S veto of the bill to increase the state gasoline tax one cent a gallon may be disappointing to the counties and cities that had hoped to profit by the distribution of the additional funds, but the governor's reasons for rejecting the bill make good sense.

The governor pointed out in his veto message that a survey is now under way to determine the state highway needs, which may have to be fitted into the picture along with the needs of rural roads and city streets.

Piecemeal tax legislation generally is not good tax legislation. This particular bill would have saddled a one cent per gallon increase on motorists. After the state highway needs are evaluated, it may be necessary to make additional provisions for financial aid. Moreover, as the governor pointed out in his message, the exact needs of the rural, city and village highways and streets have not yet been clarified.

Dust Bowl Coming Back

THE "Dust Bowl" country at the borders of Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado is starting to harvest the biggest crop of wheat in history. It's a remarkable story of change from drought, dust and despair in the depression nineteen-thirties to a real-life saga of hope and riches. Two-thirds of the 1,700 people who lived in the farming town of Elkhart, Kansas, prior to the dust era left the region in the thirties. Eighty-six houses were moved out of the town. A branch line train was stalled for two days just outside Elkhart while dust drifts were cleared off the tracks. You could walk up the dust piles onto the roofs of many houses. People carried masks wherever they went.

There was a bumper wheat crop in this semi-arid country in 1931. And then, except for a few spots along streams, farmers in that part of Kansas didn't get another crop big enough even to provide seed until 1941.

The farmers who could tough it through are coming out all right. One man who owned a quarter section, 160 acres, traded it in desperation for a $250 Ford truck. Today the place would sell easily for $10,000. Tax evaders are being cornered by Uncle Sam, and some individuals have voluntarily declared as much as $85,000 in income taxes for 1946. Investigators turned up one man who was on WPA during the dust days, who, they figured, owed the internal revenue department $17,000 in taxes he hadn't reported.

Land has gone back to $60 or so an acre, and some farmers with a couple of sections in the bowl will realize nearly half a million dollars gross this season. All told, the dust belt will produce more than 200 million bushels of wheat this year, thousands of cattle and sheep, millions of bushels of grain sorghums for stock feed, and millions of pounds of broom corn. Melons, onions, sugar beets and potatoes are also produced in large quantities.

Statehood for Hawaii

THE house of representatives has approved a bill to allow the Hawaiian Islands to become the 49th state in the union, but the measure is headed for delay in the senate, with little prospects for its approval in the present session of congress.

Just why the dilatory tactics in the senate should develop is difficult to understand. The people of Hawaii have voted by an overwhelming margin to seek statehood. The Hawaiian residents proved in the past war that they are patriotic, loyal subjects of the United States. Even after approval is given by the United States congress and by the president, it will require a year to a year and a half to complete the procedures that are necessary for statehood.

The principal basis for objection to Hawaiian statehood is the fact that the islands have a large oriental population, including many people of Japanese extraction. The United States, however, is a nation populated with people of many races and national extractions. The test of citizenship qualification is American loyalty and the Hawaiians have already proved that.

There is no reason to further delay our approval of Hawaiian statehood. The house of representatives has given its support and the senate should do likewise—not in some indefinite date in the future, but now, at the present session of congress.

BE POLITE TO "KIDS"

(Christian Science Monitor)

We know. Every week is National This-or-That Week. But school is out now. More children will be home more often. It is time to inaugurate a National Be-Polite-to-Children Week. No, we don't mean a Be-Kind-to-Children Week. There is enough well-intentioned unkindness to "kids" already. Be kind, if you can. But by all means be polite to them. Just polite.

A schoolteacher once urged third-graders to write down what they might feel like saying to her. According to the New York Times Magazine, she collected, among other rare morsels of literature, the complaint of a little girl who often was required to sit in a circle of grown-ups, hearing their talk, enduring their patronizing, answering their questions. . . . That's enough—you can see the picture. She wrote: "It makes me feel lonely."

The man who knows he doesn't know it all knows of it.

Take My Word For It

YANKEE DOODLE

For years I have sought the true origin of the American marching song, "Yankee Doodle." I have found enough theories to fill a small book—far too many for even a brief mention in this small space.

Several authorities, however, advance a few points which are worthy of note, and which I mention here without vouching for their historical correctness.

1. The original was a folk song among laborers in the lowlands of Holland during harvest time. They received as much buttermilk as they could drink, and a tenth of the grain of the harvest, in celebration of which they sang:

Yankee didel, doodle down,
 Didel, duvel, lauter;
 Yankee viver, vooover vown,
 Bothermilk and lauther.

2. The original song was composed during the English Civil War (1642-1646) in ridicule of Oliver Cromwell, leader of the Roundheads, who wore his hair cut short like the peasants, and not in ringlets, called "macaroni," like the Cavaliers:

Nankee Doodle came to town
 Upon a little pony;
 He stuck a feather in his hat,
 And called it macaroni.

3. In America, during the summer of 1755, the British army was camped on the east bank of the Hudson. General Amherst called on the colonies for reinforcement

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—"Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." The "right" to pursue happiness is one of the things that makes our Declaration of Independence a unique document. It never occurred to any other people to put that in the basic charter of their freedom.

In these feverish post-war years, we are pursuing happiness with a fierce zeal that often endangers life and sometimes seems to threaten liberty. On a thousand and one highways on this 171st Fourth of July, the sleek new cars are streaking past or they are snarled in traffic, trying to edge around the battered jalopies that have survived the war and the inflation.

Childs

—IT'S BIG BUSINESS—
 Pursuit of happiness is big business. Motor vacationists are expected to spend $6,000,000,000 this season. That figure comes from the American Automobile Association, which estimates that each family spends on the average $100 on a summer trip.

The National Park Service expects more than 12,000,000 visitors to parks and historic shrines from Maine to California. Attendance is running about 10 percent above last year. And, incidentally, the national parks will return to the Treasury this year an estimated $3,000,000.

At the beaches, in the mountains, in the cities, the pursuit of happiness goes on. It's too frantic to be entirely healthy. It sometimes seems too heedless. We snatch at happiness the way a child snatches at a Christmas tree.

There's room for doubt whether it's happiness in the true sense or whether it's just motion, getting from one place to another by the quickest possible route. In the day before the gasoline motor, people had more time to savor their happiness and to appreciate it.

—HUNGER IN EUROPE—

We are almost the only country in the world today that can engage in this race for happiness. Maybe that's one reason we go at it so feverishly—because we want to forget that in Europe and Asia the measure of happiness is enough food to keep off hunger and enough fuel to keep off the cold.

A sizeable number of American vacationists will go to Europe this summer. Reservations on every boat and almost every plane have been taken up weeks in advance. Many of these visitors will go abroad for the first time since the war.

They will be welcomed if only because tourists help to supply the desperate need for dollars. But they will not make themselves popular if they complain about the inevitable inconveniences and discomforts. They must understand that, compared to the ordinary European, they will be living in fantastic luxury, even though they may feel that the hotels are shabby and the food poor and scarce.

This first crop of tourists is the forerunner of what promises to be a flood tide. If the world continues to move shakily back toward normal and if American prosperity continues, then the tourist business to countries abroad promises to develop on a scale far greater than before the war. Some fairly conservative students of tourism believe that it will amount to five to six billions a year within a few years. At that level it would be a substantial help in redressing the balance between exports and imports.

—TRAVEL WILL INCREASE—

That means Americans trotting all over Europe, the Americas and Asia, too, if there is ever any peace in Asia. We can export a lot of ill-will that way or a lot of good-will.

Heedless pleasure seekers won't be popular. Other peoples have sacrificed so much just to live in freedom. The mad pursuit of happiness at any cost will look a little strange and alien to men and women who have endured years of tyranny and privation.

It has been well said that those who prize other things more than they prize liberty will lose not only their liberty but the things they valued more. The pursuit of happiness is only one of the rights that have come down to us from the men who believed that liberty was the first essential if there was to be any freedom to pursue the phantom of a happy life.

Soon the colonial volunteers began arriving in company after company. . . . such a motley assemblage of men never before thronged together—some with long coats, some with short coats, and others with no coats at all, in colors as varied as the rainbow; some with hair cropped like the army of Cromwell, and others with wigs whose curls flowed with grace around their shoulders."

These unsoldierly hordes so amused the wits of the British army that Doctor Schuckburg (or Shuckburg), regimental surgeon, wrote some doggerel verses to the old tune and represented the song to the Americans as one of the most celebrated airs of martial music. The British played the tune on every occasion as in insult to the Americans, who adopted "Yankee Doodle," nevertheless, as their favorite marching music, and later played it on file and drum all during the Revolutionary War.

It is to be regretted that the true history of our celebrated national song is apparently obscured forever by the mists of the centuries. But, surely, no true American can hear the joyful, triumphant strains without a quickening of the pulse and a tightening of the throat as the fifiers and the drums and the flag go marching by: Father and I went down to camp,
 Along the Captain Gooding,
 And there we see the gals and boys
 As thick as hasty pudding.

Yankee Doodle, be a man!
 Yankee Doodle Dandy.
 Yankee Doodle, kiss the gals,
 Sweet as lasses candy.

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

FREEDOM—This is the day citizens of the United States observe as the birthday anniversary of their freedom—freedom in creed, government, thought and speech.

Dunathan

It should also be a day in which they rededicate themselves to the maintenance of those freedoms both now and in the future.

The writer of the Declaration of Independence in its original form was Thomas Jefferson, at that time 23 years old, and a yearling of the mind, body or spirit.

"I have sworn," he wrote in 1800, "upon the altar of God eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of man."

REDEDICATION

The United States was not born full-blown and perfect in form, and the concept of freedom of the individual was also slow in growth and was nurtured in the minds of men of independent thought. Jefferson, McKean and others who signed the Declaration of Independence were maligned and scorned by the Tories of their day. Liberalism and progressive thought were as unpopular then as today because it upset the status quo—in 1776 it upset the widespread belief that kings were born to rule, and that colonies of the British crown had no voice in their own destiny.

Today the people of the United States must face and decide their destiny in the world. The issues are as clear-cut as they were in 1776. Only the time has changed.

TYRANNY STILL—Both within and without the United States "tyranny over the mind of man" still exists.

No longer is it tyranny of kings, for that day has passed. Today's kings are those uncrowned except for a dollar sign, or the mark of dictators who use the people of their own and satellite lands as stepping stones to autocratic power. The two are now in harmony in their desire to control—one with gold, the other with the lash of terrorism. Sometimes the two are combined, and which is difficult to tell.

Each has its adherents who sincerely believe their way is best, and between the two is caught by the people of the world. There is no end to tyranny and there can be no end to resistance for those who seek freedom.

AND NATIONALISM—As early as Dec. 6, 1775, the Continental Congress declared its independence of the British parliament, and on June 7 heard Richard Henry Lee, delegate from Virginia, move "that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states."

This resolution was adopted July 2 and what is now called the Declaration of Independence was actually an explanation of this resolution. It was adopted July 4, 1776.

The Colonies were successful in their Revolutionary War and a new nation was born. The United States of America. The U. S. A.

Today Uncle Sam is actively busy in Japan, Korea, a portion of Germany, in Turkey and Greece.

The amended Railroad Retirement act of 1935 went into effect yesterday, each person on the pension roll of a carrier being transferred to the government pension roll under the railroad retirement board.

Sydney, Australia—Amelia Earhart today postponed the start of her trans-Pacific flight from Lae, New Guinea, because of a break in her plane's fuel line and static which interfered with radio signals.

Triple threats of fireworks, auto accidents and drownings were cited today by Dr. C. S. Slemons, state health commissioner, in his appeal to Fourth of July celebrants to avoid the tragic results of misdirected patriotic fervor.

City Treasurer A. J. Manley was authorized to begin a drive for collection of delinquent personal taxes and to publish names of delinquents by members of the city council at a regular meeting last night.

Washington — Great Britain must pare down her proposed cruiser tonnage of 600,000 to somewhere near the 300,000 tons set forth in the American plan, in the opinion of officials here, or the Geneva naval limitation conference will be endangered.

Independence Day will be celebrated in Escanaba tomorrow with a program of sports, band music, dancing and fireworks to be staged by the city administration.

Ottawa, Ont.—An Aerial tragedy marred Col. Charles E. Lindbergh's arrival here Saturday to attend the celebration of Canada's diamond jubilee of confederation. Lieut. J. Iranian oil and rehabilitation—"good neighbor" policy and Fascist Argentina—Korea and Communism—international loans and international good will—

And in the beginning there were only 13 little colonies fighting "tyranny over the mind of man."

RESTATEMENT—Among the vast majority of American citizens there continues the firm belief that our national policy is still dedicated to the cause of man's freedom. And except for a questioning minority our citizens believe our international policy is dedicated to the freedom of man throughout the world.

THE OPPORTUNITY—No nation has ever enjoyed such prosperity, its people had such privilege—or been burdened with such responsibility as the United States.

And no nation has ever held such opportunity for international good as does the United States. The responsibility cannot be avoided and the opportunity should not be missed.

The opportunity is that of convincing the peoples of the world, by deed and by word, that our people stand firmly behind any policy—whether our own or that of another nation—dedicated to fighting "tyranny over the mind of man."

The responsibility is ours as surely as was our responsibility in revolting against the tyranny of

Q. Is "Johnny Canoe" the name of a boat?

A. No. It is a native festival, with costumes, floats, music and street dancing, celebrating the arrival of the New Year, at Nassau in the Bahamas.

Q. Was there a "League of Virtue" in the early part of the 19th century in Europe?

A. Yes. Known as the Tugendbund, it was a secret society founded by Prussian Minister Von Stein with the object of total expulsion of the French from German soil. It was supported mainly by students and developed a seething hatred of Germany for France.

Q. Who holds the record for swimming the English channel?

A. Georges Michel of Paris, France. In 1926 he swam from Cape Gris Nez, France to St. Margaret's Bay, Dover, in 11 hours and 5 minutes.

Q. Is it true that disabilities of 10 per cent or more, service-incurred, if correctable by mechanical devices (hearing aid or eyeglasses) are not compensable?

A. If a disability is correctable by mechanical devices, as eyeglasses or hearing aids, the Veteran's Administration may not award any disability compensation. The awarding of compensation depends upon the circumstances in individual cases.

Q. Where is ventilation perfect?

A. In the open air, because the breath as it leaves the body is warmer and lighter than the surrounding fresh air and exhaling is immediately replaced by an ingress of fresh air ready for the next respiration.

Q. What significant deficiency in our navy was noted when the fleet sailed around the world in 1907?

Q. How many times did Roosevelt and Churchill confer during the war years?

A. Seven. August 9-12, 1941 at sea; January 14, 1943, Casablanca; August 17, 1943, Quebec; November 22, 1943, Cairo (also included Chiang-Kai-Shek); December 4, 1943, Teheran, Persia (included Stalin); September 11-16, 1944, Quebec (included Eden and military staffs); and February 7, 1945 at Yalta (again included Stalin).

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—There've been considerable charges and counter-charges that CIO Counsel Lee Pressman ghost-wrote the hot White House veto message on the Taft-Hartley labor bill. Truth is that he had no direct hand in writing the message, though some of his words did creep in.

Inside fact is that the blistering veto message was composed by White House Assistant Clark Clifford with the help of two principal contributors, William S. Tyson, solicitor of the labor department, and Paul Herzog, chairman of the National Labor Relations Board.

However, both Tyson and Herzog wrote analyses of the labor bill for Clifford's guidance. And these were strikingly similar to an analysis written by CIO's Pressman. This is probably why certain phraseology that cropped up in the final White House draft of the labor message was attributed to Pressman.

Further inside fact is that Clifford requested the opinions of several other individuals outside the government, including William Leiserson, former chairman of the National Labor Relations Board. However, Leiserson is plenty peeved because Clifford rejected his views—after seeking them.

A confidential memorandum Leiserson sent Clifford was only mildly critical of the Taft-Hartley bill and endorsed several provisions of the legislation, including the ban on jurisdictional strikes, as necessary steps in management-labor relations.

Leiserson tells friends that, while he couldn't endorse the whole bill, in his opinion, some parts of it were good. In any case, the former labor board head privately declares that some of the hot language Clifford wrote into the message should have been "toned down."

—BASHFUL ABOUT WIVES—

Anyone in aviation will tell you that there's nothing bashful about Maj. Alexander De Seversky when it comes to airplane design. Repeatedly, before Pearl Harbor, he bearded and badgered Gen. Hap Arnold to build long-range pursuit planes, put armor around flying fortresses. When it comes to kissing his wife in public, however, Seversky belongs to the old school.

As Seversky called at the White House recently to receive the Harmon trophy for outstanding aviation service from President Truman, news photographers learned that it was a double red-letter day for the Russian-born aircraft designer. Seversky and his lovely blonde wife were observing their 22nd wedding anniversary. So photographers asked them to embrace.

Mrs. Seversky was willing, but not her famous husband.

"Mr. President," he demurred, "the place for a man to kiss his wife is at home, not in public."

"I don't blame you," chuckled Truman, greatly amused.

Finally Mrs. Seversky took matters into her own hands, giving her reluctant spouse a clinch that would have done justice to Hollywood.

Seversky also had to be coaxed a bit to accept the Harmon trophy. He insisted that Truman himself deserved the award "more than I do," because of the contributions the Truman investigating committee made to aviation progress.

"The revelations made by the Truman committee contributed greatly to the strength of our air forces during the war," said Seversky. "They gave me and other aeronautical leaders the opportunity to be heard with authority."

Truman smiled gratefully, but replied: "No one is better qualified to receive this high award than yourself."

—ENFORCING TAFT-HARTLEY ACT—

Two days after congress passed the Taft-Hartley labor act, Attorney General Tom Clark set up a committee inside the justice department to attempt to enforce the act as rigidly as possible.

Though some doubt exists among justice department lawyers as to whether the act is not unconstitutional, Clark has decided that the best way to get a bad law changed is to enforce it vigorously.

The Taft-Hartley committee he has appointed consists of: Lamar Caudle, protom assistant attorney general for crime; Peyton Ford, assistant attorney general for claims; Stewart MacGregor, assistant to Clark; and D. M. Ladd, assistant FBI director.

Already the FBI has been keeping an eye on John L. Lewis to see whether prior to June 30 he communicated with any of his union chiefs in the coal fields to inspire a strike. However, Clark has reported to Truman there is absolutely no evidence of a Lewis strike conspiracy.

CLOGGING THE CRIMINAL DIVISION

While Congress has been badgering Attorney General Clark for criminal prosecutions in Kansas City and for strict enforcement of the Taft-Hartley act, simultaneously congress has refused to let Clark have a new head for his criminal division.

More than three months ago Clark asked J. Edgar Hoover to pick the best prosecuting attorney he could find in the entire country to become assistant attorney general in charge of crime. Clark felt that Hoover, first, would know the men best qualified; and second, that the man he selected would work closely with the FBI. Cooperation between the two in preventing crime is essential.

Accordingly Hoover submitted several names. Tops on the list was Vincent Quinn

Two Parades Will Highlight Today's July 4 Observance

Munising—Two parades will highlight the day-long observance of the 4th of July here today. The first parade scheduled for 10 a. m. will feature bands, firing squads, colors, and floats while the second parade at 1:30 will consist of children and their pets, decorated dog buggies and bicycles.

General interest in the observance and the participation of so many people and businesses led Edward Genry, chairman of the celebration committee, to say "it looks like it will be one of the biggest we have had here."

Schedule for the day's events follows: Flag raising at Legion club 8 a. m.; assembly for parade, 9:30; parade, 10; street races for children, 11; assembly for children's pet parade, 1:30; pet parade, 1:30; baseball game at 3 p. m.; water fight, 7 p. m.; swimming, diving competition and boat races—8 p. m. Drill by Marquette Legion post drum and bugle corps—9:15.

In addition, there will be a number of surprise events, the committee chairman said.

The 22-block route of the morning parade consisting of over fifty units will be: West from the Legion club on Munising avenue to Hemlock; south to Superior; east to Cedar; south to Chocoma; west to Elm Avenue and then north to Munising avenue. Anyone not yet registered for the parade who wishes to enter, may report at the assembly line at 9:30 today.

MSES Places 141 Persons On Jobs During June Month

Munising—A total of 141 persons were placed on jobs during the month of June by the local office of the Michigan state employment service, Walter Meyland, office manager, reports.

Of the total number placed, he said, 24 were occupationally handicapped and required selective placement in occupations which would not aggravate their disabilities.

At the beginning of June there were 103 job openings reported unfilled and the number received during the month was 164. Unfilled job openings on July 1 totaled 51. The influx of tourists accounted for a moderate number of employment openings during the month, the manager remarked.

Fifteen of the 24 handicapped workers placed during the month were veterans of World War II, with service-connected disabilities, he added.

MUNISING BRIEFS
Mrs. Alice B. Scholtes has returned from Minneapolis, Minn., where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. D. G. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bishop of Canada are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Knox, East Munising.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Stebler are: Mr. Stebler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Stebler of Lake Linden; his sister, Mrs. Charles McDonald of Ypsilanti and an nephew, John Pat Beadle of Dearborn.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ness and daughter, Darleen, left yesterday for Escanaba to spend the holiday.

Munising—The number of tourists registering at the Chamber of Commerce July 2 and 3, was just about double the number that registered here June 29 and 30. Low Merwin, secretary, reported yesterday. Majority of the tourists registering are from the Lower Peninsula of Michigan with the greater part of that number coming from Grand Rapids, he said.

Briefly Told

Returns to Newport—Charles L. Hoyer, fireman, first class, USN, son of Louis A. Hoyer of 320 South Third st., Escanaba, Mich., has returned to Newport, R. I., aboard the light cruiser USS Wilkes-Barre after a four-month cruise in European waters.

The Wilkes-Barre has visited Plymouth, Portland, and Southampton, England; LeHavre, France; Antwerp, Belgium; Glasgow, Scotland, and Bergen, Norway.

Construction Permits—Permits to build 12 houses and four garages were given citizens of Escanaba during the month of June, it was announced yesterday by City Clerk Carl E. Anderson. In addition several permits to rebuild or remodel were issued.

Stadium Gets DDT—The Escanaba high school stadium received a spraying of DDT yesterday so that the Hiawathaland Saga audiences will not be annoyed by mosquitoes and other flies.

P-51 Planes Coming—Word was received yesterday from Washington that the Army Air Force will send P-51 planes to Escanaba, instead of P-80 jet planes, as first planned. The plane will fly over Escanaba this noon, between 12:30 and 1 p. m.

News Reel Cameraman—Jack Richardson of Chicago, news reel cameraman for Paramount News, arrived here last night to cover the Gladstone Rodeo and the Hiawathaland Festival events.

Arrive For Festival—Stanley Dahlgren of Chicago and a party of guests docked at the Escanaba yach basin yesterday in Dahlgren's 30-foot auxiliary ketch to spend the holiday weekend here.

Out On Bond—Dona Meyette, 45, of South Beloit, Ill., yesterday was released on $3,000 bond for his appearance in circuit court Monday, July 7, on a contempt of court charge for failure to pay arrears in alimony.

Escape Injury—A car driven by Theodore A. Dugener of 2430 Ludington street was damaged but no one was injured when the car he was driving was involved in collision with a trailer on US-241 near the north city limits at 1:45 a. m. Thursday. Kenneth Weber of St. Charles, Mich., was driver of the car pulling the trailer. Dugener told sheriff's officers that he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car.

E. L. Goodman returned Thursday from Rochester where Mrs. Goodman is a patient at the Mayo clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kupper and daughter of Evanston, Ill., arrived last night to visit with Mrs. Emil Erickson, 608 South 15th street and attend the festival.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Erickson and children, Billy and Carol, 1114 Tenth avenue south, are spending a week visiting relatives and friends in Chicago.

Exavier F. Labre, Spalding Resident For 60 Years, Dies

Spalding—Exavier F. Labre, 78, a resident of Spalding for more than 60 years, died suddenly at his home here at noon yesterday.

He was born Dec. 29, 1868, in Vaudreuil, Quebec, Canada. During his residence here, he was employed as a farmer and lumberman. He was a member of the Holy Name society of St. Francis Xavier church.

Besides his wife, he leaves one daughter, Mrs. William Gudwer, Perkins; two grandchildren, John and Mary Margaret Gudwer; two brothers, F. X. Labre and Napoleon Labre both of Spalding, and three sisters, Mrs. Frank Miller, St. Paul, Minn.; Mrs. Ovid Dubois, Spalding, and Mrs. Joseph Dussell, Escanaba.

The body was taken to Alto funeral home and will be returned to the residence Saturday afternoon. Funeral services will be held at 9 Monday morning at the St. Francis Xavier church in Spalding. Burial will be made in the Spalding cemetery.

4TH OF JULY YEARS AGO—Here is a Fourth of July parade scene in Escanaba's Ludington street about sixty years ago. The picture was furnished by Mrs. M. A. Berrigan, 906 Second avenue south. Riding the horse is the late A. H. Rolph, G. A. R. veteran, who was custodian of the Masonic Temple here for many years. Trees were brought in from the woods for street decorations in those days. The building to the right is now occupied by the Novack jewelry store.

Only A Third Of City Water Comes From Bay

Approximately one-third of the 2,000,000 gallons of water used daily in Escanaba comes from the bay, it was explained yesterday by City Manager A. V. Aronson.

If the total water consumed were pumped exclusively from the wells, the motors would have to run at a more rapid speed in order to reach the depth for that much water, he explained. This would run into added expense for the cost of operating the electric pumps.

In the near future a contract for construction of a new well to eliminate this deficiency is to be offered by the city of Escanaba. The wells can not supply enough water at the normal rate of speed only in the summer loads.

Trenary

Trenary, Mich.—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Peterson and family of Negaunee, spent Sunday at the William Haapala home at Loud Spur and at the John Savola Sr. home at Winter.

Mrs. Robert Richmond underwent a minor operation at St. Francis hospital at Escanaba on Friday. She is now convalescing at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Quarfoot and son Jimmy of Detroit, spent the week end here at the William Quarfoot home.

FISH CONTEST IS UNDER WAY

Fishermen who catch big fish during the days of the Hiawathaland Festival are asked to enter them into the special festival contest that is now in progress.

James Rouman, chairman of the festival fishing contest, said yesterday some attractive prizes are offered for the biggest fish caught. The various classes are walleye, pike, bass, northern pike, trout of any species, and perch.

The big fish should be brought to the official weighing station at the Johnson Boat Livery at the Escanaba yacht basin.

FOUR ARE HURT IN COOKS CRASH

Accident Involves Four Cars, Two Smashed In Headon Collision

Three men and a woman were brought to St. Francis hospital Thursday afternoon after a highway crash on US-2 near Cooks involving four automobiles. The injured are: Lawrence E. Heitshoe and Harold C. Wessell, Denver, Colo.; Marvin E. Cross and Miss Lois Lancour, Marquette. With the exception of Cross, who left the hospital last night after receiving treatment for cuts and bruises, all of the victims are in shock, waiting examination to determine the extent of their injuries.

The accident occurred near the Cooks corner, 17 miles west of Manistique as Ed Seims, Elkhart, Ind., driving east on the highway, slowed up suddenly to chase a bee out of his car. A gasoline truck driven by Harold McNamara of Manistique was close behind Seims and was also forced to slow suddenly. Cross, coming behind the gasoline truck in a pickup light truck, hit the rear of the gas truck and swerved to the left in the path of the Wessell sedan, which was going west, and the two met headon. Both cars were wrecked.

Miss Jean Farrell Honored Tonight At Coronation Ball

The Queen of Hiawathaland, selected by popular vote was Miss Jean Farrell, who will be feted tonight with an impressive coronation ball to be held in the Junior High School after the Historical Saga at the Athletic Field.

A highlight of the social event will be the possibility of having Governor Sigler attend the ball and dance with the queen.

Sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the event will be informal for lay people, however Miss Hiawathaland and her retinue as well as Miss Escanaba, Miss Jean Baker, and her attendants will be in formal attire.

Music for the festivity will be furnished by Ivan Kobasic and his orchestra while Pat Rooney of WDRC will emcee the event.

Those who wish to watch will find balcony seats available. Tickets may be purchased at the door, on the 15th street side.

Saturday night after the Historical spectacle there will be street dancing at the foot of Ludington street with Ivan Kobasic and his orchestra playing for the street dances.

State police from Manistique took charge of the accident, and due to the lack of hospital space in Manistique dispatched ambulances to Escanaba with the four victims.

Chief One Bull, Noted Indian Leader, Is Dead

BY REGINALD LAUBIN
Adopted Son of Chief One Bull
Six sleeps after the Moon of Ripe Service Berries first appeared in the sky (June 23) Chief One Bull mounted his horse and started over the Spirit Trail. The four day journey now complete, he should be re-united with his family, Sitting Bull, his good wife, Scarlet Whirlwind and other relatives and friends who preceded him by many winters into the Spirit Land.

LAUBINS ARE HERE
Reginald Laubin and his wife, Gladys Laubin, have arrived here to do the special Indian dances in the Hiawathaland Saga at the Escanaba high school stadium July 3 to 6.

The old chief had seen 94 winters, for he was born in the Racoon Moon of the Winter When the Four-Horned Crow was killed, according to the calendar of his people, the Minicoujou Sioux. According to the white man's reckoning this would be February 1853. One Bull was the second son of the famous Chief Makes Room and of Good Feather Woman, sister of Sitting Bull, greatest leader of the Sioux ever had. He was born near Bear Butte at the northern end of the Black Hills, near the site of the present city of Sturgis, South Dakota.

CHIEF ONE BULL and REGINALD LAUBIN

ter of Sitting Bull, greatest leader of the Sioux ever had. He was born near Bear Butte at the northern end of the Black Hills, near the site of the present city of Sturgis, South Dakota.

Adopted by Sitting Bull
At the age of four One Bull was adopted by his uncle Sitting Bull to take the place of a son of about the same age recently lost. He lived in the tipi of his uncle until the time of his own marriage and pitched his lodge by the side of his uncle's for the remainder of Sitting Bull's life.

One Bull and his well-known brother, Chief White Bull, still living on the Cheyenne River reservation at the age of 98, took part in many of the battles of Sitting Bull's campaigns. He was the last survivor of the Battle of the Little Big Horn living on the South Dakota side of the Standing Rock reservation. He survived by 71 years, lacking two days, Long Hair Custer and his men who came to attack the Sioux on that fateful day of June 25, 1876.

One Bull saw the glory that had been his people's, then lived through all the long years of change, corruption and despair that followed the conquering white man. But he never became bitter and himself admitted defeat. He said they were tricked, not conquered. Through it all he felt pity, not only for his own people, but for the white men who were so ignorant in the ways of courtesy, justice and understanding. He continually counseled his people to follow the advice that Sitting Bull had given them. "If you see anything good in the white man's road, pick it up. If it turns out to be bad, throw it away." Had they accepted this advice, the lot of the Sioux would have been better through-out the years.

In spite of hardship, poverty and injustice, Chief One Bull was one of the happiest men I have ever met, red or white. He was continuously busy making or doing something; constantly singing, and he could see the funny side of everything. He set the example of a real chief, always thinking of the welfare of his people rather than of himself.

Joined the Church
Early after the reservation life had begun One Bull joined the Congregational church, for its missionaries were the only ones to give help and comfort to the "hostiles" at the time of the death of his uncle Sitting Bull. One Bull and his wife, Scarlet Whirlwind, furnished the pews for the little mission church on Little Oak Creek, near Little Eagle, South Dakota. It was not hard to be a Christian for in many ways the old teachings of the Sioux had been the same. In 1936, however, during the terrible droughts that beset the West, he revived the Sun Dance, which had been forbidden since 1881. In 1934 the old bans were removed by the government and Indians were allowed to dance once more. To One Bull the prayer of the Sun Dance was not in conflict with his understanding of Christianity—merely an intensification of the same prayer—and he danced the Sun Dance for the first time since he had danced it with Sitting Bull. He presented the Sun Dance as a prayer for rain. From that time on until today his country has been blessed with plenty of rain, good crops and fat cattle.

Chief One Bull was selected by the well-known artist, W. Langdon Kihn, to represent the typical Siouxan Indian of the Plains and his portrait appeared in the National Geographic Magazine for July 1944.

A few days ago the old chief expressed the desire to go back to Little Oak Creek to the old mission church he had helped to build. He had been ill much of the winter and felt his time was growing short. While in the hospital he told his friends, "Saddle my horse. Get my horse ready. I'm ready to go any time now. Soon Uncle Sitting Bull and I will be riding our horses together."

Knew Time Had Come
In the familiar surroundings of his earlier days the old man was happy but the meeting house, where he and his family stayed, was draughty and cold. His old trouble of the winter returned. He knew it was time to go. His daughters gathered around him, singing his favorite hymn, number eleven from the Dakota Hymnal. The old man closed his eyes and started off on the long journey. With his departure went one of the last links with the historic days of the Old West. His kindness, generosity, joviality, patience and understanding remain as examples for all people, red or white, to follow.

The earthly remains of the old chief were buried in the little cemetery on the hill at Little Oak Creek beside those of his wife, Scarlet Whirlwind, and his grandson, Crowfoot, (named after Sitting Bull's son), who started over the Spirit Trail only two weeks in advance of his grandfather. With the old man were buried his beautifully beaded buckskin costume and eagle feather warbonnet and the famous wotawe, or war medicine, of Sitting Bull. It was this "medicine" with which it was believed that Sitting Bull could bring storms of wind or rain at will, that gave the whites the impression that the famous chief was a "medicine man." One Bull and other old timers who were associated with Sitting Bull, said he was not regarded as a medicine man by his own people, the Sioux. He was merely fortunate enough to own a very powerful war charm, or medicine.

Mississagi Is On Way Out As Logging Stream

By PHIL RICH
Blind River, Ontario—Yesterday was a beautiful day—clear and not cold. Today it is even better with the temperature on the porch of this lakeside cabin standing at 74 in the shade. That always happens when you're packing to go home. I've never seen it fail.

Taking advantage of good weather Woody and I flew to Blind River yesterday while Al and Joe Abbott went out to do a little fishing. As the natives say, we picked up Bill Vrooman, who used to live in Midland for some years and flew north of there for about an hour.

Blind River is a great lumbering center and has one of the largest mills in Canada. There is now talk of a pulp mill also to further use the timber resources up here for paper.

As we came up the Mississagi river valley we could see the logs on their way to the mill. And at the mill thousands of them in great booms not unlike the days now past in Michigan.

But ere long the Mississagi will have carried its last log. Reason for this is not that there is not timber left in the watershed, but that a big power project is about to be undertaken by the government. This will probably take four or five years to complete. By that time most of the timber will have been cut. At least the pine. The hardwood will not float and so must be trucked out.

The Matinenda lake area north of "Blind" is nearby and amazing in extent. There are many lakes large enough to land a plane on. Some of the lakes have small developments. Some have quite a number of cottages. But lakes and vacant shoreline seems endless.

These lakes are as beautiful as any that can be found. The rocks are plentiful and high. There is a lot of timber. This was a surprise because the area has been under cutting operations for years.

The North Channel area with its many islands is also beautiful. Towns like Blind and Thessalon have good harbors and docks. When the Canadians simplify their air regulations for admission and add Thessalon and Blind River as ports of entry and "Americans" (as they call them here) have clearance at a spot like Cheboygan or Alpena or Bay City, then Michiganders can fly in here and Mrs. Charlie Klobucher and daughter Delores of Lansing, Mrs. Sam Radowick and sons, Patrick and Norman, Miss Betty Jean O'Neil, Miss Margaret Kelly, Harold Boucha, Miss Vera Boucha, and Michael Crnkovic, all of Detroit.

Championship Rolo Opens
Today With Classy Field

Fourteen of the ranking birligigs of the nation including the national champion and two former champions will battle it out for the world birligig crown and title King of the White Waters in a championship event which opens here today and continues through Sunday.

Champion since 1942 is Jimmie Running of Eau Claire and he is here to defend his title. Eyeing the crown again is Jimmie Herron of Kelso, Wash., who won the title in Gladstone in 1941 but was unable to defend in 1942. Then there is Billie Girard who was the title holder back in 1928.

A line supporting program has been arranged. It includes the famed Maine woodsman, Perry Greene and his Chinook dogs; the Wilke family of archers, father Otto, former Wisconsin champion, his daughter, Ruth, and son, Dick; sawing and chopping demonstrations; and a live game of birligigging by Ed Meeks and Perry Greene; retrieving of live game by the Golden Retrievers of Cherry Hauschalter swimming exhibitions by Chuck Goran, Dave Anderson, Chuck Swisher and Chuck Young and the Misses Barbara Steichen and Peggy Culhane of Minneapolis; diving by the illustrious Tommy Thompson; music by the Michigan Lumberjack band directed by Dr. E. C. Beck of Mount Pleasant; bait and fly casting; model airplane contest and baseball and softball games.

A new steel 16-foot diving tower has been erected. "Red" LeMere, Minneapolis Athletic club coach, who has coached several of the performers, will be here to arrange the exhibitions.

There are six birligig events. In addition to the championship round there is the women's championship; trick and fancy; amateur championship for youths under 21; amateur junior championship for youths under 15; the old-timers round, and a block turning event.

All are competing for a slice of the $1,800 prize melon.

DEATH CLAIMS
JOHN JELUSIC

Funeral Services Will Be Held Saturday Morning

John J. Jelusic, 53, 1512 Montana avenue, died yesterday morning at 9:45 at his home.

He was born in Austria March 7, 1894, and came to America at the age of 19. He has resided in Gladstone for a long period and for the past 30 years was employed by the Northwestern Cooper-age and Lumber and Northwestern Plywood and Veneer company. He was married in 1939 to Helen Gibson, of Wisconsin, who survives him. There were some relatives in Austria, but they have not been heard from since the beginning of the war.

The body was removed to the Kelley Funeral Home.

The rosary will be recited there at 8 this evening. Funeral services will be held at 9 Saturday morning at All Saints Catholic church, the Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette officiating. Burial will be in Fernwood cemetery.

Russia is so large that its extreme east and west points have an 11-hour difference in time.

OBJECTOR CAMP NOW VFW HOME

Barracks Of Germfask Detention Home Is Moved To City

A building that once served as quarters for men who refused to serve their country in its time of need, will shortly be transformed into club rooms for an organization made up of men who were ready to sacrifice everything in their nation's defense.

A section of the old CCC camp at Germfask which, during the war became a detention camp for conscientious objectors, is being moved to Manistique to become the headquarters for the Manistique post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The section is 112 by 20 feet and is being moved in two units, one unit has already been set up on the lots on North Maple street provided for it. The building is of good lumber and is well constructed and the members are enthusiastic over the acquisition.

The lots were donated by Joe Levin who has also graded them and will build a foundation for the structures.

L. R. Walters, one of the VFW committee supervising the installation of the structure on the new site, states that un-American bldg. crawled on the walls by the trouble making "conchie" may still be seen, but will be covered up as soon as the decorating plans are put into effect.

Flag Bedecked Streets Offer Welcome To Local July 4th Celebration

Manistique's streets are flag bedecked this morning and carefully laid plans for the first local Fourth of July celebration in more than a decade are in order. Preparations are the most elaborate of any Independence Day celebration ever held here.

Sections of paving on South Cedar street and Deer street have been marked off to designate the start and finish line for the races that are to be held during the day and while the sports programs are in progress motor traffic will be diverted to other thoroughfares. Cars will be off Cedar street between Walnut and Oak between 7 and 1 and on Deer street between Houghton and Mackinac avenues from 2:30 to 3:30 p. m.

Participants in the tug-of-war contest between a picked squad of inland company stone heavers and paper mill bale tossers are told to take note of the fact that the match will be held on paving and that they should be shod accordingly.

A new feature has been added to the evening's program. At 8:30 a greased pig will be set at liberty in front of the stadium and the pig will be the prize for the one who catches it. The Silver Gloves boxing matches will follow.

At the conclusion of the boxing, fireworks will be set off and pavement dancing in front of the post office will conclude the day's program.

ST. PETERS PASTOR HERE

Will Be Ordained At Church Next Sunday Evening

Herbert Walther, of Wisconsin Rapids, who a short time ago graduated from the Thiensville Theological seminary, at Thiensville, Wis., arrived in Manistique Thursday to take charge of the pastorate of St. Peter's Lutheran church, at Walnut and Range.

The new pastor will be ordained at services at the church at 7:30 next Sunday evening. The Rev. Theophil Hoffmann, of Gladstone, will preside at the ordination services and will be assisted by pastors of Wisconsin Synod churches from various other congregations in the Upper Peninsula.

Mr. Walther will preach his first sermon as pastor on the morning of Sunday, July 13.

The new pastor is a graduate of Northwestern college at Watertown, Wis., and completed his seminary degree at Thiensville. Like his predecessor, the Rev. Sigmund Hillmer, he is the son of a minister and has a brother who is also a minister. He is married and will occupy the pastorate next door to the church.

The church has been without a minister since last fall.

HERBERT GOES TO WASHINGTON

Will Attend Hearing
Of House Committee
Next Monday

J. Joseph Herbert, Manistique attorney and member of the board of regents of the University of Michigan, may have a part in shaping important national legislation.

He will be in Washington, D. C., Monday to attend a hearing before a committee of the House of Representatives at which James Caesar Petrillo, music czar has been asked to appear.

Mr. Herbert will accompany Dr. Joseph Maddy, president of the music camp at Interlochen, who having incurred the displeasure of Petrillo, became the object of much publicized reprisals. The music camp was banned from the airways and the place was blacklisted for musicians who wished to teach there.

The fight to reinstate Interlochen broadcasts has been a long one, and the results of the hearing may have far reaching effect.

School Board To Re-Organize For Coming Year

An organization meeting of the Manistique board of education will be held Monday evening at the superintendent's office at the high school.

Dr. George A. Shaw and Mrs. Elwood Taylor, newly elected member will take their places on the board and a presiding officer will be selected. Other members of the board are Mrs. J. Joseph Herbert, Keith Bundy, Robert Berger, Earl LeBrasseur and Mauritz Carlson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eckland are expected to return this week from a month's trip to California.

Outstanding Boxers Of U. P., Wisconsin To Battle Here Today

First Major Postwar U. P. Tennis Meet To Be Held Here This Weekend

Sharkey, Hilton Head 10-Bout Star-Studded Show At Athletic Field

The Upper Peninsula's outstanding amateur boxing show will be presented at 4 this afternoon at the Escanaba athletic field as a sports feature of the Hiawathaland Festival. The boys will weigh in and receive their physical examinations at 2 p. m. at the field house in the athletic field. The ticket windows and admittance gates will open at 2:30 and preceding the start of the boxing show, the Ojibway Indians from the Bad River reservation at Odan-ah, Wis., will present their ceremonial dances. Leonard Tatrow, acrobatic clown, also will entertain the crowd before the opening of the boxing show. Ten fast bouts are on the card.

The largest crowd in the history of amateur boxing in the Upper Peninsula will be on hand to witness the star-studded show, featuring boxers from Oconomowoc and Marinette, Wisconsin, pitted against the outstanding boxers of Upper Michigan.

Ray Meets Barnes
The team of Oconomowoc boxers arrived here yesterday noon with their trainer, Ken Snyder, and boxers from Marinette and Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, will arrive here today.

Highlighting the card is a match between Leonard Sharkey, Escanaba Indian, and Frankie Hilton, of Marinette.

Glen Ray, Soo, Ont., U. P. and Wisconsin 118 pound champion, has been lined up with Ronnie Barnes, of Oconomowoc, with Morley Ostertag, Soo, Ontario, paired with Earl Elmer, of Oconomowoc. There is a possibility that these pairings may be switched after the weigh-in, with Elmer meeting Rany and Ostertag paired with Ronnie Barnes. Elmer and Ray are the two older boys of the group.

Jim Piche, of Escanaba, will meet George Rohloff, of Oconomowoc, and Don Dougherty, popular Marinette lad, will battle it out with Al Neff, of Oconomowoc. Cliff Johnson, of Marinette, will pair with Bob Lauderbeck, of Oconomowoc. Don Little, popular Escanaba redhead, is scheduled to meet Eubio Reiter, of Marinette, a Filipino lad home on Navy furlough.

Mendicino Here
A bout that is certain to be jam packed with action will be the match between Joe Brunette, of Soo, Ontario, and Dominic Barnes, of Oconomowoc, both of whom are Milwaukee Golden Glove champions.

Albert Mendicino, of Soo, Ontario, will meet Ken Bohlen, rugged Oconomowoc welterweight. Bill Ferrari, of Escanaba, has been secured as a replacement for Jack Heindryx of Marinette to meet Dick Stuart, of Oconomowoc.

Ernie Hunkins, of Oconomowoc, who was slated to pair with Wayne Anderson, of Marinette, could not make the trip to Escanaba and a replacement is being sought for him. Other tentative matches include Vern Dionne, Marinette, vs. Levy Young, Escanaba; Dave Bruce, Bark River, vs. Stan Meyers, Bark River.

Fred Saddy arrived yesterday from Milwaukee and will be the referee of the matches this afternoon. Judges will be Jim Mandi and Curley Valenti, of Iron Mountain.

Cubs Slow Down Cards In 4-2 Tilt

Chicago, July 3 (AP)—Hank Borowy outduelled Harry "The Cat" Brecheen with a six-hitter today, and the Chicago Cubs slowed down the upsurge of the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 to 2. The defeat dropped the Cardinals into a tie with the Cubs for fourth and fifth place.

The Cubs pounded Brecheen for nine hits, with Don Johnson setting the pace with four straight on two singles, a double and his second homer of the season. Johnson's circuit blow and another by Bill Nicholson for his 10th of the year were the winning tallies, coming with nobody on base. St. Louis ... 000 000 110—2 6 1 Chicago ... 200 100 10x—4 9 0 Brecheen and Garagiola; Borowy and Scheffing.

Four Homers Help Bucs Spank Reds

Pittsburgh, July 3 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates found their shortened left field fence an inviting target today and belted four home runs into the bullpen area known as "Greenberg Gardens" to defeat the Cincinnati Reds, 7-3. Cincinnati ... 201 000 000—3 8 1 Pittsburgh ... 020 010 31x—7 8 0 Hetki and Mueller; Bagby and Howell.

LOCKE TIED FOR LEAD

Chicago, July 3 (AP)—Bobby Locke, the knickered South Africa champion, Herman Keiser and chunky Ed "Porky" Oliver today rolled into the first round lead of the $36,000 Tam O'Shanter golf jamboree—each with 66's, six under par.

Detroit Silents Battle Hardware Nine Here Tonight

An added attraction of the Hiawathaland Festival will be a softball game at Memorial Field at 9 tonight between the Detroit Silents, a fast team of mite players, and Delta Hardware, of the Escanaba Softball association. There will be a preliminary at 7:15.

The Silents will be seen in action again at 9 Saturday night against the strong VFW squad. A preliminary tilt will be played at 7:15.

CRESCENTS IN HOLIDAY GAME

Escanaba Bears To Play Colored Nine Here At 1:30 p. m.

The Milwaukee Crescents colored baseball team will play an exhibition game this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with the Escanaba Bears at the City diamond. The game, another sports feature of the Hiawathaland Festival, will be started earlier than usual in order to avoid conflict with the outdoor boxing show to be held at the adjacent Escanaba athletic field. The Crescents will play at Marinette Saturday.

The Escanaba Bears returned to the victory groove last week at Republic and are ready to give the colored boys from Milwaukee an interesting afternoon. Manager Schwabach has not indicated whether Jim Fitzpatrick or Jack Beck will be selected for duty against the barnstormers, who are reputed to be a classy aggregation.

Perronville Twin Bill Is Feature Of July 4th Program

Perronville, July 3—Heading the sports phase of the July 4 program at Perronville is a baseball doubleheader featuring the Perronville nine, currently in third place in the Cloverland league, against an old rival, Bark River, and the Chicago Televears, a fast semi-pro team.

The home nine will clash with Bark River at 1:15 p. m. Friday, and immediately following that game, Perronville will take on the Televears, reputed to be one of the fastest semi-pro aggregations in the so-called Windy City. The Televears, incidentally, are sponsored by none other than Edward Bloniarz, formerly of Perronville, who now manages to scrape enough together to pay his income tax by operating a tavern in Chicago.

Escanaba Shooters Invited To Iron River Rifle Meet

Members of the Iron River Rifle club and Hiawatha Gun club of Iron River, yesterday expressed regret that a machinery breakdown had prevented completion of the Escanaba trap and skeet range in time to hold the Hiawathaland Festival meet and invited shooters of this district to compete in the trap shoot in Iron River Sunday, July 20.

"About a dozen of us from Iron River were planning on entering the Hiawathaland meet and we are sorry that it has been necessary to postpone the event," Roy Hanks, secretary of the Iron River Rifle club, said in a telephone call to the Escanaba Press sports department yesterday.

A's Beat Bosox, Move Into Third

Boston, July 3 (AP)—Phil Marchildon pitched the Philadelphia Athletics into third place over the Boston Red Sox today with a seven hit, 8-4 victory against the American league champions before a 16,969 crowd. Philadelphia ... 010 510 001—8 13 1 Boston ... 300 000 010—4 7 1 Marchildon and Rosar; Donish, Zuber, Murphy and Tebbetts; Partee.

IN ACTION TODAY—Leonard Sharkey, popular Indian welterweight, will meet Frankie Hilton in the feature bout of the outdoor boxing show at the Escanaba athletic field at 4 this afternoon. The bout promises to be a thrill packed battle all of the way. The entire show is an all star card, with Upper Michigan champions paired against Wisconsin battlers from Oconomowoc and Marinette.

Hiawathaland Festival Sports Calender

Headlined by the Fourth of July boxing show at the city athletic field this afternoon, beginning at 4, and the first major postwar Upper Peninsula Open Tennis tournament at Ludington and Royce parks today, tomorrow and Sunday, a gala sports program has been arranged that is sure to please all sports lovers here during the Hiawathaland Festival, competitors and spectators alike.

Competitors will find a wide variety of sports at their disposal—tennis, swimming, golf, horseshoe pitching, archery, fly and bait casting, sailing, softball and baseball.

And spectators will be kept busy witnessing such outstanding sports exhibitions and competitions as the water skiing show to be staged by Chuck Sligh, Jr., of Holland, Mich., with a team of experts that includes four national champions, archery at municipal dock and at the new Silver Arrow range (Escanaba Ski park), sailing races, boxing, U. P. tennis matches, the air show to be staged by Walter Arntzen and his fliers, roll rolling by competitors in the world championship meet at Gladstone and a bangup softball program at Escanaba Memorial Field Sunday afternoon, beginning at 1.

Municipal Dock Show
With the exception of the boxing show at the city athletic field, tennis matches at Ludington and Royce Parks, archery competition at Silver Arrow range, and softball, baseball and golf events, the focal point for most spectators will be municipal dock, which will be scene of almost constant activity from the time the Sligh water skiers take their first 50-foot leap at 1 this afternoon until Fred Bear, the Grayling, Mich., archery expert, fires his last arrow late Saturday afternoon.

Ludington park will be a busy place Sunday also, as semifinal and final matches in the U. P. tennis tournament will be conducted throughout the day and devotees of "barnyard golf" pitch for championship honors in the festival horseshoe tossing tournament.

There should be no excuse for anyone miss Chuck Sligh's team of water skiers or Fred Bear, the archer, in action. In all, they will give five exhibitions at municipal dock.

Complete Calendar
There should be no excuse for anyone missing Chuck Sligh's team are his brother Bob, trick riding champion; Lew Withy II, open water ski titlist, and Bill Telling, slalom champion. Miss Irene Boer, one of the foremost women skiers in the United States, also is a member of the 10-man troupe.

The complete calendar of festival sports events follows:

TODAY (Municipal Dock)
1 p. m.—Surf board and water skiing exhibition.
2 p. m.—Second seagull class elimination sailing race.
2:15 p. m.—Archery exhibition by Fred Bear.

3 p. m.—World's championship polo at Gladstone.
8:15 p. m.—Parade of champions at Escanaba Athletic stadium.
10:30 p. m.—Venetian night program at municipal dock.

Bark River Plays Indians In 'Grudge' Battle On Sunday
Bark River, July 3—The Bark River ball club is going all out to beat Menominee in its regular Cloverland Baseball league tussle with the loop-leading Indians at 1:30 here Sunday afternoon. Bark River also will play the U. S. Coast Guard Mackinaw team at 3:30 p. m. Sunday.

By winning this game, Bark River can gain a tie for first place in the first half of the season, which ends with next Sunday's round. The Menominee-Bark River clash has taken on the nature of a "grudge" tilt, inasmuch as the Indian manager is on record as declaring that when the two teams meet, the Indians would come out on top. And Russ Simmons and his Bark River cohorts are intent on more or less making the Indian bigwig "eat his words."

In view of this situation, Sunday's game looms as a hotly-contested battle in which the pressure will be on all the way. Bark River will battle Perronville as a July 4 feature in Perronville. Bryak and Pratt will pitch and Knauf will catch for Bark River Friday, and Klemman will hurl with Knauf backing him up, in the Menominee tussle.

TAM O'SHANTER OPENS
Chicago, Ill., July 2 (AP)—With some $36,000 waiting at the end of the four-day 72-hole trek, 188 male professional, amateur and women golfers start their stampede over Tam O'Shanter's rolling hills tomorrow in the seventh annual three-day all-American tournament.

JUNIOR SOFTBALL
Halvorson's won from Goodman's yesterday by forfeit.

Ranking Wisconsin Aces To Challenge Mikulich, Other Peninsula Stars

Outstanding university players, former Upper Peninsula champions and ranking Wisconsin players are among an exceedingly fast field which will bid for top honors in the first postwar Upper Peninsula Open Tennis tournament to be held in Escanaba today, tomorrow and Sunday in conjunction with the Hiawathaland Festival.

Competition will be held in six divisions, the men's and boys' singles and doubles, women's singles, and senior mixed doubles, with prizes to be awarded to the champion and runnerup in each class. All matches will be played at the Ludington Park and Royce Park courts in Escanaba.

The tennis shack at Ludington Park will be the headquarters for the tournament. All pairings will be posted there, and final matches in all divisions will be played on the lakefront concrete courts at Ludington Park.

Fifth-Ranking Badger
Heading the list of men's entries are such aces as Bill Mikulich, Traunik, captain of the University of Michigan tennis team; Bob Borchert, of Manitowish, Wis., former Wisconsin state titlist and one-time University of Wisconsin captain; Joe Bleckinger, of Oshkosh, Wis., the Badger State's fifth-ranking player; Ed Rocheleau, of Iron Mountain, former U. P. champion, and a strong contingent from Ironwood, including Bill McRae, Bob Petrusha, Bud Johnson and Jim Albert.

Marquette has entered a strong team, including Leonard and Bob Brumm, Ed Kukuk and Dale Rank, star of the Lawrence college team at Appleton, Wis. Bill Anderson, winner of the Escanaba meet last year, heads the Escanaba contingent, and Iron Mountain, Gladstone, Kingsford and other U. P. communities are well represented.

Players were seeded, according to their record and known ability, and all pairings were made via drawings from a hat, with Tennis Queen Margaret Weber, of Escanaba, doing the drawing.

Outstanding Duos
Three outstanding men's doubles teams entered are the Mikulich brothers, Bill and Louis, of Traunik; Joe Bleckinger and Bob Borchert, who recently teamed together to win the Northeastern Wisconsin tournament at Fond du Lac; a second brother combination, Leonard and Bob Brumm, of Marquette, and a father-and-son duo, Ed Rocheleau and his pater, Romeo, of Iron Mountain.

The top favorite to win the women's singles crown is Marion Anderson, Marquette Open champion, who is generally regarded as the Babe Didrikson of the Upper Peninsula. She is outstanding in practically all sports, including her favorite—tennis.

The mixed doubles is expected to be a battle between Bill and Gladys Mikulich, Traunik, and Bob Brumm and Marion Anderson, of Marquette.

Local Aces Open Meet
Ten first round matches involving local players will be played today. This was deemed necessary because of the large number of entries and the necessity of completing the meet by Sunday afternoon. Today's pairings were announced yesterday and starting times and courts are posted at Ludington Park.

Pairings for other first round matches in all divisions follow:

Saturday (Men's Singles)
8 a. m., Royce Park—Bill Mikulich vs. Lowell Swanson, Kingsford; Don Patterson, Ironwood, vs. Hal Simpson, Waukesha.
8 a. m., Ludington Park—Con Lempesis, Marquette, vs. Ed Rocheleau, Iron Mountain; Don Stolberg, Iron Mountain, vs. Joe Bleckinger.
9:30 a. m., Royce Park—John Chapman, Kingsford, vs. Fred Albert, Ironwood; Louis Mikulich, Traunik, vs. the winner Jim Hall-Bill Herkes, Escanaba; Jim Albert, Ironwood, vs. Bob Brumm, Marquette.
9:30 a. m., Ludington Park—The winner Boyd Peterson-Wayne Crebo, Escanaba, vs. Ed Kukuk, Marquette; Tom Gronlund, Iron Mountain, vs. Bill Anderson, Escanaba; the winner Norman Kincaid—Carl Olson, Gladstone, vs. Chuck Harvey, Escanaba.
11 a. m., Royce Park—Romeo Rocheleau, Iron Mountain, vs. Dale Rank, Marquette; William McRae, Ironwood, vs. Leonard Brumm, Marquette.
11 a. m., Ludington Park—The winner Dale Wood—Arne Erickson, Escanaba, vs. Henry Sauers, Escanaba; LeRoy Weir, Waukesha, vs. Bud Johnson, Ironwood; Bob Borchert, Manitowish.

Second round matches at 12:30 and 2 p. m., Saturday; third round matches at 9 a. m., Sunday; quarterfinals at 11 a. m. Sunday; semifinals at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, and finals at Ludington Park at 4:30 p. m. Sunday.

(Men's Doubles)
3:30 p. m., Saturday, Ludington Park—Ciebo-Hemel vs. Chapman—Swanson; and Mikulich-Mikulich vs. Stolberg—Gronlund.

(Women's Singles)
5 p. m., Royce Park, Saturday—Gladys Mikulich, Traunik vs. Marcia Farrell, Escanaba; Pearl Weir, Waukesha, bye. (The winner Mikulich—Farrell to play Miss Weir at 6:30 p. m., Saturday, at Royce Park. Finals slated for 2:30 p. m. Sunday at Ludington Park.)

(Mixed Doubles)
5 p. m., Royce Park, Saturday—Bill Hemes-Nelly Hendricks, Escanaba, vs. Bob Brumm—Marion Anderson, Marquette; Bill and Gladys Mikulich, Traunik, vs. LeRoy and Pearl Weir, Waukesha. (Finals to be played at 12:30 p. m. Sunday, Ludington Park.)

Junior boys and singles and doubles will be played off today. Pairings are posted.

50-FOOT WATER SKI JUMP—Action such as this will be seen at the municipal dock waterfront in Escanaba during the Hiawathaland Festival. Chuck Sligh, Jr., of Holland, Mich., and his troupe of 10 national champions and experts will give five exhibitions starting at 1 this afternoon. Here you see Bill Telling in mid-air, with Mort Roberts riding below.

Giants Humiliate 'Dem Bums,' 19-2

Brooklyn, July 3 (AP)—The Giants "moldered da bums" today for the edification of 25,987 Brooklyn fans. The score was 19 to 2.

Aroused by last night's 11-3 defeat which included a nine-run inning, the New Yorkers teed off on Dodger pitching in the first four innings and the results could be described only by Tony Galento's celebrated words.

In the second inning, the Giants matched that nine-run frame. When they stopped scoring after Johnny Mize belted his 22nd home run of the season in the fourth, they had wiped out all the season's high scoring marks for National league and had equalled the year's one-game high established by the Boston Red Sox when they whipped Chicago 19-6 May 13.

New York ... 297 100 000—19 15 3 Brooklyn ... 000 110 000—2 10 1 Koslo and W. Cooper, Warren; King, Gregg, Behrman, Hatten and Hodges, Edwards.

STORM KILLS 7 IN GRAFTON, N. D.

Tornado Strikes Three Places; 3 Children
Among Dead

Grand Forks, N. D., July 3 (AP)—At least seven persons were killed and 14 hospitalized when a tornado struck three places near Grafton, N. D., early tonight.

Six migrant farm workers three of them children, were killed on the Luther Lykken farm two miles west of Auburn and one man, Frank Rogalla, died in a hospital after the twister hit Warsaw, N. D., south of Grafton. Mrs. Rogalla was reported missing.

Nearly the entire town of Warsaw was wiped out, States Attorney Wallace Warner said, with only the Catholic church and town hall left standing.

The migrant laborers were all members of several families, about 20 persons, living in one house at the Lykken farm, seven miles north of Grafton. Sheriff Peter Aafedt, Coronado, Lunde and Grafton police went to the scene and the sheriff's office reported several were found killed and two of the injured taken to a Grafton hospital.

HEALTH DOCTOR—Dr. William C. Harrison of Crystal Falls has assumed his new position as health director of the Delta-Menominee district. He was in private practice in Minneapolis until 1936 when he entered the U. S. Army Medical Corps and served in this country and in Alaska until his discharge in May, 1946, with the rank of lieutenant colonel. For the past year he has attended the University of Minnesota school of public health where he recently received his masters degree.

Eva Braun Cashes Check: It Wasn't Adolf's Old Girl

Milan, Italy, July 3. (AP)—Eva Braun, but not THE Eva, did cash a check at the little south Tyrol town of Fondo two days ago—settling off speculation in the Italian press that Hitler's wife might still be alive.

This Eva is the 26-year-old Italian wife of a Milan lawyer, Alessandro Coppa, who went to the south Tyrol with her eight-month-old baby June 21 for a vacation.

Her mother explained today that Eva's passport was made out in the name of Eva Braun and she showed it as identification to cash the check.

"Oh, she's no relation of the other Eva," her mother laughed.

Americans Falter In British Golf

Hoylake, England, July 3 (AP)—Temper and golf scores blew sky high at the halfway mark in the British Open golf tournament today but U. S. hopes to keep the trophy sank as Toledo's Frank Stranahan, who topped the American contingent, found himself seven strokes off the pace.

Stranahan "was disgusted" with his 79 for an aggregate of 150, a total that was two strokes better than that of John Bulla and three better than Vic Ghezzi's. Bulla had 72 today and Ghezzi had 78, but all three made the select group of 40.

Cash For Terminal
Leave Bonds Next
Item For Congress

Washington, July 3. (AP)—The House will give the right of way Monday to legislation permitting immediate cash payment of terminal leave bonds while the Senate will tackle a bill for unification of the armed services.

Both branches of the Congress are striving for possible adjournment by July 26.

After disposing of unification, the Senate will deal with tax reduction.

The decision to concentrate on those subjects in the Senate next week was reached at a closed meeting of the Senate Republican policy committee today.

The unification plan would place the War and Navy departments under a single cabinet secretary for national defense and create a new air forces department to give the Army Air Forces co-equal status with the older land and sea arms.

House Republican leader Halleck of Indiana, told a news conference he felt certain the terminal pay bill will be passed. It would allow former enlisted servicemen to cash at anytime after September 1 the five-year bonds issued them at the time of their discharge in payment for furlough and leave time they did not receive.

There are about 9,000,000 bonds outstanding, with a value of approximately $1,800,000,000.

Girrbach Of Soo First To File For 11th District Race

Lansing, July 3 (AP)—Senator George Girrbach, Sault Ste. Marie Republican, today became the first to file for the 11th district congressional post vacated by the death of the late Congressman Fred Bradley.

Girrbach filed nominating petitions for the Republican primary July 29 with the secretary of state containing more than 500 signatures from seven counties. Deadline for filing nominating petitions is 4 p. m. (EST) July 8.

Federal Jury Convicts 3 In Arms Bribery

Washington, July 3 (AP)—A federal jury today convicted former Rep. Andrew J. May (D Ky.) and two co-defendants, Henry and Murray Garsson, on bribe conspiracy charges involving May's role as wartime chairman of the House military committee.

The jury of seven men and five women deliberated on hour and 50 minutes in reaching its verdict of guilty on all three counts against each of the trio.

Maximum penalty would be six years in prison and $30,000 fine for each defendant.

Appeal Promised

May, in tears as the jury foreman intoned the word "guilty", subsequently told newsmen: "I'm still not daunted—we'll appeal it."

Defense Attorney Charles J. Margiotti told the court he would move within the next five days for a judgment of acquittal, an arrest of judgment, and a new trial. Justice Henry A. Schweinhaut deferred sentence pending the filing of motions.

Henry Garsson, 50, so-called "brains" of the $70,000,000 Garsson wartime munitions combine, calmly read a novel while the jury deliberated. His brother, Murray, 54, wept as he left the courtroom. All three were continued on $2,000 bonds.

May, now 72, was convicted of taking $53,634.07 in bribes from the Garsson brothers as payment for using his powerful congressional influence to get favors for the Garsson shell-making enterprises.

The brothers were found guilty of conspiring to defraud the United States of May's services through bribery. The government contended that the Garssons set May up in the lumber business, as head of the Cumberland Lumber Co. in Kentucky, as a "blind" to conceal bribery payments.

Ownership Concealed

Prosecutor William A. Paisley, who won a mail fraud conviction against Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, also a former congressman, conducted the government's case. He is a special assistant to U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark.

At the core of the case was the disputed ownership of the Cumberland company, in the mountains near May's Kentucky home. The Garssons poured almost $50,000 into the firm.

The government claimed the Garssons bought the firm for May. May claimed he merely acted as manager of the company. He acknowledged he took in all the money the Garssons sent him for the firm, but maintained that he "paid it all back—every cent of it" or spent it on the firm.

May conceded that he represented himself as the company's owner. But he said this was only to conceal the real ownership from his fellow Kentuckians. He said they would not have worked for the company if they had known that the owners were "out-of-state Jews."
